The TSO has hoped to have more gas in the capacity market, I don't think changing the de-rating factor will be enough to swing the momentum the other way. I think the price will still be high enough to make a good business case for BESS. Because the market is new there are two extreme views on BESS in Poland right now.

I don't consider my self a Brown Bess expert per say. I agree with Dave on every point. The stock looks like a 1756 stock to me, and the lock too Looks like a 1756 period "straighter" profiled lock. That aside, I'm not sure how they could call it a 1742, anyhow I've never trusted IMA at all when it comes to originals.

BESS deployments are already happening on a very large scale. One US energy company is working on a BESS project that could eventually have a capacity of six GWh. Another US company, with business interests inside and outside of energy, has already surpassed that, having reached 6.5 GWh in BESS deployments in 2022.
