Who will deliver the Liddell battery project?

The Liddell Battery Project will be delivered under an Engineer Procure Construct (EPC) Contract by Fluence Energy. AGL has appointed Fluence Energy to act as the Principal Contractor and have HSE control for the Liddell Battery Project site.

Who is the principal contractor for Liddell battery project?

AGL has appointed Fluence Energy to act as the Principal Contractor and have HSE control for the Liddell Battery Project site. AGL has also signed the Connection Agreements with Transgrid for the construction of 330kV/33kV BESS substation along with a 330kV overhead line to connect the BESS substation with Liddell 330kV Transgrid switchyard.

What is the final investment decision on the Liddell battery project?

The Final investment Decision (FID) on the approximately A$750m Liddell Battery project was announced in December 2023. (Credit: Fluence) The Liddell Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) Project involves the development of a 500MW, two-hour duration grid-scale battery in New South Wales (NSW), Australia.

How will Liddell's battery storage benefit New South Wales?

As Liddell has retired, this battery will help meet peak demand and help to back up wind and solar generation. Due to Liddell's location, the battery storage will help ensure the ongoing stability of New South Wales power system. This will make use of the significant infrastructure at Liddell and utilise it for battery storage.

Will a battery be installed at Liddell Power Station?

By this stage, preliminary planning had already commenced following the initial investment of $3.3 million in the 2019-20 State Budget. AGL proposes to install a 500-megawatt (MW), two gigawatt-hour (GWh) grid-scale battery on the site of the former Liddell power station which retired in 2023.

Will Liddell battery be connected to TransGrid 330kV substation?

Liddell Battery will be connected to the existing TransGrid 330kV substation through a new 330kV high-voltage power line. Planning approval for the Liddell battery project was issued by the NSW Department of Planning and Environment (DPE) in March 2022.
